

6 Questions With John Bogle

This week's AAI Weekly Features highlight these valuable AAI articles:

- The Top Mutual Funds Over Five Years: Health Care Remains on Top: Health care has not only remained the best-performing category, it now boasts seven of the 10 funds with the highest five-year returns.
- Six Questions With John Bogle: The founder of Vanguard explains how investors can maximize long-term wealth and gives advice on how to get grandchildren interested in investing.
- Shorting: A Strategy for Profiting From Price Declines: Stocks at risk of falling in price tend to be overpriced and have weakening price movement, growing balance sheets and declining margins.
- Model Fund Portfolio: REITs Show Their Long-Term Value: During the portfolio's past 12 years, long-term equity REITs have provided excellent diversification without sacrificing return.

The featured AAI stock screen this week is the Dogs of the Dow: Low Priced 5 approach.

Our Member Question for this week is:

How well do you tolerate significant downturns in the stock market, such as a decline of 5% to 10%?

Read more »

The AAI Weekly Features are one of the many benefits of AAI membership. To learn more, consider a risk-free 30-day Trial AAI Membership to start becoming an effective manager of your own assets.