

Health Care & Tech Favored Among Surveyed Members

This week's Sentiment Survey special question asked AAI members what industries or sectors they like right now. Health care topped the list, named by 43% of all respondents. (Included in health care is biotech, which was specifically named by 11% of all respondents.) Technology ranked second, listed by 30% of respondents. About 16% said financial and/or banking stocks. Tied for fourth place were utilities, energy, real estate and consumer staples, each listed by just under 11% of respondents. Several AAI members listed more than one industry or sector.

Want to weigh in? Take the survey yourself and see results online at <http://www.aai.com/sentimentsurvey>.

If you want to become an effective manager of your own assets and achieve your financial goals, consider a risk-free 30-day Trial AAI Membership.