

Investors Feeling Cyclical

STOCK SUPERSTARS REPORT™

Last week, the Department of Labor estimated that the U.S. economy added 280,000 jobs in May, a number that was significantly higher than expected. Motor vehicle sales also surged in May, which is generally considered a sign of confidence on the part of consumers since it is such a big purchase. Other economic data also points to a slowly strengthening economy.

Read more »