

Start-Up Companies' Not So Great Returns

Today's debut of Twitter (TWTR) as a public company adds to this year's resurgent IPO market. As of the start of November, U.S.-listed initial public offerings totaled $49 billion (190 deals) year-to-date. Dealogic says this is the largest amount since 2007, when 230 IPOs worth $53 billion were completed during the same 10-month period.
