

Stocks: Realtime Quotes Charts for Android

Stocks: Realtime Quotes Charts for Android is an app made by StockSpy Apps Inc. that assists investors in tracking stocks and markets through price quotes, charts, news and more. The app is available for several different operating systems, but this version was downloaded to an Android tablet.

After you download and launch the app, you will be brought to the home page. Here you have the choice of looking at charts or a browser. Both selections are available at the top of the app. If you choose charts, you will see a list of indexes along the right-hand side as well as a default group of stocks. To see a given chart, click the ticker symbol of the chart you would like to view. If you choose the “browser” option, you can search the Internet with the app open. This is an interesting feature not common in many stock-related apps.
