Topic: How Money Supply, Taxes and Regulation Impact the Stock Market and Prosperity

Speaker: Simon Reeves, CEO & Wealth Manager, TideRock Financial, LLC

Looking back at world history through the lens of money supply, taxes and regulation shows that these three factors have not only shaped human history, but also have predicted future stock market performance over the last hundred years. Reeves will show an economic pattern played out over and over again, going back to the Roman Empire's rise and fall. Find out where we are in the current cycle and how you can invest accordingly. This discussion will include the work of economists such as Milton Freidman and two popularizers of the Austrian School of Economics, Fredrick Hayek and Ludwig von Mises.
