Date: Wednesday, October 16, 2013

Topic: Energy and Income: Your Safest Bet for High Yield and Growth in an Aging Bull Market

Speaker: Roger S. Conrad, Co-Founder and Chief Editor, Capitalist Times

High yields are to this market what technology stocks were to the 1990s, and the trend is likely to end badly for many investors. Tied to the emerging Great American Energy Boom, high-yield energy is the exception. This presentation reveals the best buys across a range of sectors, from recession-proof utilities and still-undiscovered pipeline companies to trusts that give you a share of the take from actual wells. Conrad also shows what to avoid and how to take advantage of increased volatility due to surging institutional investment.
