

Upcoming Chapter Meeting: AAI Chicago

Date: Saturday, February 18, 2012

Topic: When to Hold and When to Fold: Better Selling Skills

Speaker: Allen Holdsworth, Portfolio Consultant and Lecturer

All investors and most traders have a much more difficult time selling than buying. This presentation and Q&A session will cover reasons and times to sell, as well as when and why not to sell. Behind those suggestions will be insights into fundamental analysis, technical analysis and investor psychology. With the markets having rebounded a great deal since early 2009 and the recent volatility in response to world events, an updated course on selling skills is very timely.
