Topic: Profit From a Rapidly Changing World in 2014

Speaker: Robert Hsu, President, Absolute Return Capital Advisors LLC

Saddled with aging population and heavy entitlements, Europe sinks into recession as socialist leaders take control in France and the U.K. Here in America, a demographic crisis is also brewing, as 70 million baby boomers gradually enter retirement age in the coming years. As growth slows, much of the world counted on emerging markets such as China and India to be the growth engines for the global economy, but both economies are also slowing down. In a zero-interest-rate environment, how can investors generate enough returns to retire? International money manager Robert Hsu will share with you his strategies that earned solid-double-digit average annual returns by profiting from major global trends that will continue in 2014.
